* LEGAL NOTE * REFORM

The 2006 amendments to the Civil Code of the Republic of Armenia have introduced significant changes to the legal system, particularly in the areas of family law and inheritance. The amendments have been designed to modernize the legal framework and address contemporary social and economic challenges.

Key areas of reform include:

- Family Law: The amendments have strengthened the protection of family members, particularly in cases of domestic violence and child abuse. They have also introduced measures to facilitate the resolution of family disputes through mediation and conciliation.
- Inheritance Law: The reforms have clarified the rules of inheritance, ensuring that the rights of all heirs are protected and that the process is fair and efficient.
- Contract Law: The amendments have updated the provisions governing contracts, reflecting changes in business practices and the need for greater legal certainty in commercial transactions.
- Property Law: The reforms have addressed issues related to the ownership and use of property, ensuring that the rights of property owners are clearly defined and protected.

These reforms represent a significant step towards creating a more transparent and predictable legal environment in Armenia, which is essential for economic growth and social stability.
